

OLD HARDING SUIT SETTLED

Over Disposition of Personal Property Ends in Court.

A suit involving the estate of the late George Harding and the personal property of Mrs. Harding was settled in court today. The suit was brought by the executor of the estate of George Harding, Charles D. Schaffner, against the Harding Memorial association, Charles D. Schaffner, executor of the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Harding, and Roscoe D. Meizer, formerly guardian of the DeWolfe.

A varied assortment of personal property of Mrs. Harding which had been given by the executor to the memorial association was granted to George DeWolfe and his sister by the terms of yesterday's settlement.

Mrs. Harding had been left the property in question by Mr. Harding, who under two separate items in her will divided it between the association and the DeWolfe children. Public papers, souvenirs, trinkets and the like were to go to the association and all realty personal property to the DeWolfe.

The executor, gave certain property to the association which Mr. Meizer's petition asserted was properly the DeWolfe's.

It included silverware, towels, an old trunk, several cedar chests, bedding, rugs, curtains, chair covers, pillows, glassware, monogrammed glass, a table lamp, an ivory and peacock fan, sets of Lenox, Dresden and Worcester china, jewel boxes and pictures. Under terms of the settlement the association is permitted to take one piece from each of the china sets for collection.

A demurrer to Mr. Meizer's petition, stating that the suit did not state a cause of action, was previously overruled by the court. Barram & Barram represented Mr. Meizer, Donithen & Michel the association and Guthery, Strelitz & Guthery were attorneys for Mr. Meizer.

Marriage Meddlers

BY ADELE GARRISON

There's something screwy somewhere, she said. "Phil Veritzen always has been famous for launching new ideas of his own training, but he's always given a much more thorough course than Mary has had. And there's always a marvelous build-up of confidence, rumor and mystery before the launching. There's been nothing of that kind behind Mary. No, no. The state of Denmark should be looked into. And the order tracked down. But if he's not going to produce the play, what a rotten trick for him to play you!"

"I'm not worrying about that part of it," I told her. "I've had one disappointment about it. I surely can stand another. But, surely enough, I have a curious feeling that he means to go on with the play. I am not so sure as to what he means to do about Mary."

"It's easy for him to do anything," Lillian commented. "After she's rehearsed a while, he can suddenly discover that she doesn't measure up to the role, and that with the deepest regret, for the sake of your play—a diabolically clever touch, that he must put someone else in the role, hoping

"That's simply perfect," I told her. "That warning not to mention your part in the affair to the other interested party" removed the last worry from my mind."

"Well," she commented dryly, "I can imagine many pleasant nights than Dick's face if he should get a message from that dame spilling the beans about my being declared in on this party without his sanction, or even knowledge. And that's the sort of thing little Edie would just love to spill. But I'll bet the holes in two doughnuts that she'll keep her mouth closed on that particular proposition until she gets up here. Then I'll have a chance to gag her permanently. But, however it turns out, you're out of it, do you hear? I probably will consult you now and again, but if I can help it Edith Fairfax isn't going to get within speaking distance of you for some time, some little time."

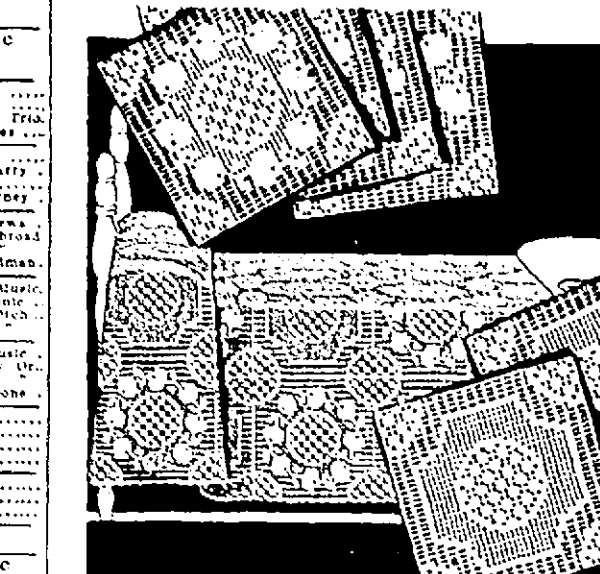

Her voice held a grim finality which comforted me with its sheer strength and determination. Once again, I reflected gratefully, Lillian had proved a tower of strength to me in trouble.

She dusted her hands together with a curious gesture, as if she were removing the traces of an unpleasant battle.

"Let's put Edie on the table till it's necessary to remove her," she said briskly, and proceeded to a pleasant topic. What is it you want to tell me about Mary?"

"It's the old story," I said slowly, "only with Lillian. Philip Veritzen is announcing some new plans for her, and Mary is reading between the lines—I think, with some justice."

"What a devilish plot!" I said. "I can hardly believe it's what's happening."

"That's just the trouble," she said. "We can't be sure that he isn't on the level. Have you any other facts that fit in with the theory that he is double-crossing her?"

NETWORKS VIE FOR SPORTS COVERAGE

Intense competition for "big" sports events by the networks is going on this year. The Associated Press reported today. For example, while NBC was to have had an exclusive report of the A. A. U. track meet at Milwaukee, Ted Husing of CBS described the event from a nearby rooftop looking through binoculars.

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, active in opposing the Supreme Court changes, will speak on that topic at 7:30 tomorrow night over WAIB-CBS.

Tonight, Mrs. Roosevelt on "White House Keeping" at 6:15 over WJZ-NBC. Out-of-the-ordinary program at 6:45 over WEAF-NBC.

President Roosevelt will speak to the Boy Scout jamboree tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. over WEAF-NBC.

Wesley's unbeaten softball season in the No. 1 Sunday school league took a step nearer the perfect last night by annexing its seventh consecutive win of the season. Wesley players trounced the Trinity Baptist entry, 9 to 3, on the M. S. S. diamond, to continue their first place lead of two full games over its nearest rival.

Wesley's club opened the evening with four runs in the initial inning, adding a single tally in the third before the Baptists were able to score the first of their three runs in the fourth. The Baptists' runs came singly in the fourth, sixth and seventh, while Wesley, not content with five tallies in the first three innings, added three in the sixth and another in the final frame.

Other No. 1 league games last night found the second-place Lee Streeters walloping the Salem team, 15 to 5, on the President field. Although two full games out of first place the Streeters hold the runner-up position by the slim margin over the Baptists and Epworth entries. The latter teams are deadlocked for third place, each

CLUB INAUGURATES FREE LADIES' DAYS, KNOT-HOLE SYSTEM

Fostoria and Fremont To Oppose Home Team at Lincoln Stadium.

Marion's baseball fans are in for a good break this week, when the Ohio State League team, after visiting the home field of the Fostoria Red Birds this afternoon, returns here for a four-game series at Lincoln park. The home games will find Fostoria tabulating the opposition tomorrow afternoon, the Fremont Reds invading Marion for the first time on Friday, and Fostoria here for a Sunday double-header.

Thursday and Friday games are set to start at 5:30 o'clock, while the twin bill Sunday will get underway at 1:30. For the first time since the club has been located in Marion, feminine fans and youngsters will have an opportunity this week of taking advantage of the management's offer to witness a game without charge.

Each Tuesday and Friday when the club is playing at Lincoln park, "Ladies Day" is to be observed. Officials of the club announced, Friday of this week, when the Fremont Reds make their first appearance here, will be initial Friday game on the home lot. All feminine fans, who wish to attend, are invited to witness the game.

A special section of the seating facilities at Lincoln park will be reserved for women. Formation of a "Knot Hole Gang" for youngsters from 8 to 15 years of age inclusive, is already under way and those who enroll before Thursday, will be admitted without charge to the Fostoria-Marion game that afternoon. Home games on Thursday will be open to the "Knot Hole Gang" throughout the playing season, according to arrangements announced by club officials.

Clarence Lee, boys' work secretary at the Y. M. C. A., is personally directing the enrollment of youngsters in the Knot Hole Gang. For the present, temporary registration cards will be used, and applications for membership in the gang may be made at any of the city playgrounds during the daily recreation periods or at the Y. M. C. A.

A special entrance will likely be provided at the park for Gang members, and park play leaders will be on hand to identify those who have joined. Later, official registration cards, which are now being printed, will be distributed among members of the Knot Hole Gang. The cards, bearing a good sportsman's creed, will be the only necessary identification to admit the youngsters to Thursday afternoon games, when the complete plans are worked out.

Out To Win Now
Marion's club, six full games behind the pace setting Mansfield Red Sox, will be out to add a couple of sweeps to its belt in games this week. Ted Saxe, first sacker, who was injured in last Saturday's game with Mansfield, when he was spiked by a runner, is expected to be back in the playing lineup late this week. In the meantime, Johnny Brich, new recruit, has been covering the initial sack.

Brich incidentally has surprised his teammates and himself, in his performance at first base. In his four games in the infield position, Brich has been credited with 20 put outs, three assists and has been chalked up with only three errors. At bat, Brich cracked out four hits, two of them going for home runs.

Fisherman Enjoys Holiday Until His Upper Sink.
One Marion man almost experienced a perfect holiday over the past week-end, according to the story being told by his friends. An ardent fisherman, the man tried his luck at Indian Lake, Monday and found it exceptional. He caught several nice bass and a large quantity of sizeable bluegills. Then when it came about time to start shoreward and prepare the fish for consumption the incident, which practically ruined his day, occurred. A tickling sensation in his nose, a sneeze, and his upper, the very ones he had depended on to sink into the fish he had just caught, plopped just outside the boat into some 20 or 30 feet of water. Needless to say, the search for them, up to the present time, has been futile.

CUBS OUT IN FRONT IN SPITE OF EARLY SEASON FORECASTS

Chicago "Alger" Boys Slug Way to Top Over Adversity.

By Drew Middleton
Associated Press Sports Writer
Add success stories for 1937—the rise of the Chicago Cubs.

When the season started, the Cubs could have slipped into the first chapter of an Alger book—just a bunch of nervous hearts and willing hands. The apologetic wait to the rich ballers in St. Louis, the Giants and the Yankees.

But what a difference a few months make. Today, the Cubs in front as baseball attention swings to Washington and the All-Star game and the players not in the game enjoy a three-day holiday. American League games scheduled yesterday between the Yankees and Red Sox and the A's and Senators were moved back.

Since June 3, the Cubs have been hot. They have won 12 out of 27 games and have been especially effective against those bad boys from St. Louis. Monday they made it nine straight against the gamblers with two victories over them. Previously, the Cubs had won three out of four from Pittsburgh and three straight from the Cards. In those three games they made 129 hits, scored 50 runs. The Cards have not beaten them since April 25.

Like every Alger hero, the Cubs had to overcome adversity to be at the top on baseball's traditional holiday day, July 4. Early in the season, injuries and illness deprived them of the services of nine players, most of them pitchers.

Charlie Grimm's men found a remedy—they started to hit. They are still hitting. The latest averages credit Gabby Hartnett with .326, Billy Herman with .353, Bill Rogers with .253, and Frank Demaree with .249.

The Cincinnati Reds came to Deatur today for the first of a two-game exhibition stand against Three-Eyes league clubs. They meet the Deatur Counties tonight and on Thursday come to Peoria for another footlight contest.

Young Jake Mooty, recalled yesterday from Syracuse of the International league, was to join the team, replacing Johnny Vander Meer on the pitching staff. Vander Meer, last year's strikeout king of the minors, was sent to Syracuse for more seasoning, but subject to 24-hour recall.

SNATCHES OF SPORT

BY EDDIE BRITZ
WASHINGTON, July 7 — No matter what you may think of this guy Dean, you have to give him credit—he knows how to steal a show.

His later "rebellion," his flight eastward, and a dramatic eleventh hour arrival, plus his recent row with President Ford Frick, have made him just about the most looked-for among all the major league luminaries here for the All-Star game today.

Washington shows but the catching when Dean said in St. Louis yesterday he was feeling tired and aimed to take the day off. The story got the headlines here and throughout the early editions Dean was blamed for running out on National League fans.

You would think most of them were going to the park just to see him pitch. When word got around that he had changed his mind and taken off for the capital, it will be the big news of the game. Odds are Dean was just putting on his act or "back" as he call it—the time.

One figuring Gilbert estimates $10,000 worth of baseball talent will be on display today. Speculators want only $25 for a pair of $110 grandstand seats. We watched one hawker for half an hour yesterday and he didn't get a hit. Mrs. Ferrell can afford to be temperamental. He showed up at headquarters yesterday with a Hollywood movie contract in his pocket.

Virtually every major league club owner is here. The fans will doubt that Bill Terry picked the strongest possible National League team, but most baseball fellows string along with Bill. Arky Wright was all smiles when he blew in from Pittsburgh. He has been practicing hitting right-handed and worked two over the pinnles the other day.

Al Lapp, Florida baseball ambassador, was an early arrival. So was John Arnold Heydler, former pitcher of the National League. He looks hale and hearty and before leaving town.

Phil Todd Takes Charge of St. Paul Team After Gabby Street Resigns.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, July 7—Phil Todd, manager pro tem of the St. Paul club of the American Association for the second time in five seasons, had the Saints off on the right foot today.

Todd took charge of the league's eighth-place club yesterday after the old sergeant, Charles (Gabby) Street, resigned because of ill health. In 1933, Todd finished out the season in charge of the Saints after Emmet McCann resigned.

Effective pitching by Art Herring and opportunistic hitting by his mate, Dave St. Paul, a 5 to 1 decision over the ailing Milwaukee Brewers last night.

Minneapolis staged a 13-hit batting assault on Richmond and Pate to whittle out a 4 to 2 decision over Kansas City and retain its four-game margin over Toledo and Columbus which remained tied for second place.

A neat seventh pitching performance by Lefty Alta Cohen, combined with a 14-hit attack, helped Toledo to a 7 to 0 victory over Louisville in their series opener.

Another collaboration between the pitching and hitting departments gave Columbus a 7 to 4 victory over Indianapolis. Bill McGee held the Indians to four hits, and pitched six scoreless innings before he eased up and coasted in. The Red Birds backed up his work by belting Braxton, Nelson and Phillips for 13 blows, scoring in six of the nine frames.

Nine New Teachers Hired
by Marion School Board

Wednesday, Sept. 8, Set for Opening of Term; Commercial Department Expansion Planned.

Nine new teachers were hired, the opening date of school set and an expansion of the commercial department at Harding High School planned at a meeting of the board of education yesterday afternoon.

The school administration building on South Prospect street, the board also added eight more textbooks to the free list in accordance with the state law enacted recently.

For the first time in a number of years, school bells will ring out first on a Wednesday this fall—Sept. 8. The chief reason for this is that on Wednesday, Sept. 8, the school will be closed for the day.

The nine teachers hired were given one-year contracts and will be assigned to schools later by Mr. Hudson. They are:

Miss Esther Topf, a graduate of Ohio Northern University, elementary; Miss Starling Lewis of Park street, who taught at Radnor last year, elementary; Miss Mauretta Vreagie of 535 Maple avenue, Bowling Green University, elementary; Miss Mary E. Ward of Marion, O., Bowling Green University and formerly teacher in Ottawa county, elementary; Miss Julia Boegs of Lexington, O., Ohio State University, formerly taught at Blooming Grove, elementary; Miss Martha Carl of Wooster, Ohio State University, elementary music; and Miss Marion Bloom of Fremont, Catholic University, elementary music.

New High School Teachers hired are: Miss Elizabeth Swingle of Zanesville, five-year course at Wilkesburg college and now studying for a master's degree at Ohio State University; home economics; and George Niemi of Ashland Harbor, Miami University graduate, formerly taught at Tipppecanoe City and Columbus Grove, industrial arts.

Two teachers notified the board yesterday they will not be able to accept contracts offered for next year. They are L. M. Nelson, for the next year a vocational instructor at Harding High school and also teacher in adult night school classes; and Miss Ruth Spicer, first grade teacher at Oakland Heights. Mr. Nelson is accepting a teaching position in a West Virginia Normal school and Miss Spicer has been married. Mr. Hudson said.

Mr. Hudson urged a general board to pay scales by $10 a month in order to meet the rising scales elsewhere. It is becoming difficult to obtain good experienced teachers for the Marion system at the present pay offered, he said. Board members did not take any action on the recommendation.

Mr. Hudson was authorized to hire a new woman teacher for the commercial department at Harding High school to augment the present staff which is overloaded. A study of pupil-teacher loads at Edison, Central and Harding schools was made by Mr. Hudson and presented to the board yesterday.

It showed the commercial staff at Harding had more and larger classes than teachers in any other department. In addition, prospective enrollment for next year is predicted to be an increase of six classes at Harding next year and a larger senior class than any in the last several years.

An increase of 60 pupils in commercial classes is noted. The new classes to be formed are in economics, stenography, typing, geography, history and bookkeeping.

The senior class next year is expected to number 315, as compared with 275 at the beginning of last year. Of the 275 last year 243 were graduated.

Overcrowding listed. Mr. Hudson's survey at Central shows an overcrowding of pupils, as many as 35 and 40 in rooms meant to seat only 25. The teacher load is in some cases 45 a class, whereas a normal class is about 20. At Edison a similar crowding is noted.

Books recommended for addition to the free list and approved by the board are: Ninth year Latin by Scott, tenth year Latin by Scott, Sanford and Gummery; seventh year science by Hunter and Whitman; eighth grade science by Wade, Blossom and Eaton; senior high English by Hunter, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade literature in Harcourt-Brace series.

Classrooms were let to approximately 30 computers for supplies for next year to cost a total of $2,672.23. The only new equipment purchased were chairs costing $523. The usual annual cost of supplies and equipment is $5,000.

The board decided to advertise for bids on depositaries for school funds after attracting the storage of public funds by bank members of the federal deposit insurance corporation goes into effect. The board will advertise for bids on a maximum deposit of $100,000 in the inactive account for a period of 90 days after Aug. 23. If no bids are made, they will transfer all funds to the active account.

The library board presented its annual budget for 1932, estimated expenditures for 1932, $10,000 for books, a large increase over previous years, $500 for periodicals, $700 binding, $5,000 staff salaries, $800 service salaries, $48 secretary, $725 heat and light, $1,500 improvements, $1,000 other expenses, $1,000 unappropriated.

Mr. Hudson also presented several reports from Harding High School. One listed the upper 25 per cent by scholarship of the 1931 senior class. The first five in the list are Joan Gegenheimer, 4; Margaret Young, 3.02; Mary E. Smith, 3.00; a curve that broke a foot beyond the plate. Lou Gehrig fanned, swinging vainly at a fast ball, with the count two and one. No runs; no hits; no errors; one left.

SECOND INNING: Nationals: Demaree belted a high fly to Averill. Mize tried to West on the first pitch. Gabby Hartnett grounded weakly to Gehrig, who tossed to first. No runs; no hits; no errors; none left.

Americans: Earl Averill slashed a single to right, the first base hit of the season. Dick Bartell, who worked the count to three and two, Joe Cronin tried to Demaree. Bill Dickey scratched a single past Dean, sending Averill to second.

Herman got his hands on the roller, behind second base, but couldn't handle it. Demaree took Sam West's high fly, short center. Cronin took a called third strike. No runs; two hits; no errors; two left.

THIRD INNING: Nationals: Dick Bartell bounded out Cronin to Gehrig. The crowd cheered Dean a loud and mixed greeting as he batted for the first time.

Dizzy made a bid for a Texas leaguer by popping a fly near the right field foul line, but DIMaggio galloped over to make the catch. Wanner tried to West near the left field line.

No runs; no hits; no errors; none left. Americans: Rolfe grounded out, Hartnett to Mize. Gehrig, with the count two and two, bounced off Herman's glove, through the middle of the diamond.

Gehrig, after fouling one pitch over the roof of the double decked right field stands, smashed a home run over the right field wall. The crowd went wild as DIMaggio trotted home ahead of the Yankees. "Iron man" in break the scoring lead.

Averill bounced off Dean's glove and was tossed out, Herman to Mize. Two runs, two hits; no errors; none left.

FOURTH INNING: Nationals: Tommy Bridges, slender right hander of the Detroit Tigers, went in the box for the Americans. Herman greeted him with a line single to left.

Vaughan topped the ball down the first base line and was tossed out, Bridges to Gehrig, as Herman went to second. It was not a sacrifice.

Medwick slashed a double, inside the left field line, scoring Herman. Demaree asked to Gehrig. Mize grounded out, Cronin to Gehrig. One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Americans: The crowd gave Carl Hubbell an ovation as the seven ball master, pitching hero of the 1931 all-star game, replaced Dean in the box.
